

ENTERTAINMENT

at Jupiters
HOTEL & CASINO

ENGELBERT HUMPERDINCK

at Jupiters
HOTEL & CASINO

Engelbert Humperdinck

Ladies still adore Grandad Pop Crooner

BEFORE there were "Beliebers" there were "Humperdinckers" and Friday 20th July 2012, 76-year-old Engelbert Humperdinck proved he still has what it takes to make the ladies swoon with his romantic pop songs.

The Indian-born singer sent Gold Coast mums into a frenzy as he played his only Australian show at Jupiters Hotel and Casino. The crooner serenaded his audience with hits including Release Me, A Man Without Love, After the Lovin and The Last Waltz. Like Justin Bieber's hardcore fan group who tag themselves as "Beliebers", Humperdinck also had a group of followers including a young Princess Anne who called themselves "Humperdinckers".

Humperdinck said he was flattered by his female fans. "To get screams from the ladies is quite a compliment, I think," he said. "It still goes on now which is quite good. And I don't have to pay them."

ENTERTAINMENT

at Jupiters
HOTEL & CASINO

Engelbert Humperdinck

ENTERTAINMENT

at Jupiters
HOTEL & CASINO

Engelbert Humperdinck

at Jupiters
HOTEL & CASINO

...of romance's impending void in yesterday's Elle but tells CC she forgot to mention the show will be his O.T. in date.

Tickets start at $79, on sale via Ticketmaster

WINE TASTING

[illegible]

ENGLISH crooner Engelbert Humperdinck, 76, performed in concert on the Gold Coast last night.

to Australia. However, he also sang at a charity event in Sydney on Wednesday. His son and manager, Scott Dorsey, lives in Sydney. His biggest hits included "Release Me." AAP

His biggest hits included "Release Me." AAP

...going strong, writes Sally Browne

...the

Models of decorum right down to the last waltz

SHIRAKAMI (a "Hunger," the 50th anniversary of the Japanese投降) has been celebrating victories for more than 45 years and continues advantageously to associate with his somewhat prodigious but married to the same woman all these years.

The Tokyo night at Asakusa Showa, dressed immediately in black ...black shirt and black bow tie. I washed his devoted fans with a selection of his old favorites.

Powered by a great sense of humor, he told him the lovers going back to his home in Los Angeles and meeting all his old friends with new faces.

CT asked him how he kept himself in such good shape and he said that he had

SUZANNE SIMONOT
simonots@goldcoast.com.au

Luck up your mums: celebrated crooner Engelbert Humperdinck, 76, the world's favourite Anglo-Irish singer, is coming to the fore.

English crooner ENGELBERT HUMPERDINCK during a quick trip to Australia. HUMPERDINCK will appear at Jupiters Theatre during a quick trip to Australia. He also sang at a charity event in Sydney on Wednesday. His son and manager, SCOTT DORSEY, lives in Sydney. DORSEY, 76, represented Britain at the Eurovision Song Contest in May, but couldn't recapture his success last year.

(EDS: Reissuing with correct keyword)
M.B. RTV ad/bwz

Tickets start at $79, on sale on Monday via Ticketmaster

...and last night 75-year-old legendary singer proved he still has what it takes to make the ladies swoon with his powerful tenor.

The Indian-born singer met Gold Coast mums in a frenzy last night as he played the only Australian show at Jupiter's Hotel & Casino.

HE'S STILL GOT IT

The crooner surrounded his audience with hits including "Gee," "I Wasn't Born with This Rock on," "The Love Train," and "The Last Thing I Remember."

Like India's leader, the group who has dominated the 'National' is...

...also had a group of followers -- including the young Prince Arno -- who called themselves Hungerbikers.

"To get answers from the justice system,"

"It still goes on now which is quite good. And I think "We're doing very well. It takes...

"I have people like that to start a new world for the kids. Good for them."

Tommy Bernstein — since the $20 million theatre reopened in April.

... 1940s Japan in Friday August 12 and 14/47

1. Regina King & Engelbert Humperdinck
2. Stefania Ferré & Fiamma Bindi
3. Giulio Solimati, Jonathan & Roberta Giacca
4. Zoltan Luchner & Milos Forman